Areas of Specialization and Experience

- Jason is a Partner with Clifton Gunderson's State and Local Tax (SALT) Practice. In this role, he is responsible for providing businesses and individuals with an understanding of multistate taxing issues and requirements, while assisting in the identification and implementation of state and local tax strategies that best fit the business/individual. He has extensive experience working with companies of all sizes and has worked very closely with departments of economic development to provide incentive packages for companies looking to locate in areas most advantageous to their business. In addition to his partner role, Jason heads up Clifton Gunderson's Manufacturing Group in Iowa to bring value-added services to Midwest manufacturers. Jason spent seven years with the Iowa Department of Revenue. During that time, he was active in reviewing legislation, answering technical questions and managing refund programs and continues to be active in that process through various committees and associations. He conducts seminars that keep businesses, business groups and various civic and professional organizations on top of the changing state tax laws. Prior to joining Clifton Gunderson, Jason spent several years as the Sales and Use Tax leader/National Credits & Incentives leader for another large national firm. Jason has extensive experience in the areas of state income tax, sales and use tax, fuel taxes, research and development, and credits and incentives for various industries located throughout the United States.
